

FaceKey Corp. Enters Agreement with Alamo Integrated Systems Inc.

SAN ANTONIO, TX, Nov 15, 2007 (MARKET WIRE via COMTEX) -- FaceKey Corporation (PINKSHEETS: FEKY), the manufacturer of biometric-based security products utilizing fingerprint and/or facial recognition, announced today that Alamo Integrated Systems Inc., headquartered in San Antonio, TX, has joined their network of resellers representing their new EntryGuard(TM) products.

Scott Kilborn, Sales Manager of Alamo Integrated Systems Inc. (www.alamois.com), noted, "The FaceKey EntryGuard(TM) access control products and time clocks, provide superior identification and security. They also reduce administrative costs for managers because the employee cannot lose their card or leave home without it, or punch the time clock for their buddies. The units install quickly and can operate on the corporate network or retrofit existing systems. This agreement allows us to supply innovative solutions that meet our customers' needs. As part of our continuing efforts to provide the most advanced security products and services at a fair price to our clients, the FaceKey products were a natural fit, allowing us to strengthen our 'customer first' attitude.

According to Dr. Yevgeny B. Levitov, President and Co-Founder of FaceKey, "Our priority is to produce industry-leading products that provide genuine identification for superior security and save the customer money. Alamo Integrated Systems Inc., with its emphasis on great customer support, is well qualified to utilize FaceKey's products to enhance the benefits they can offer to their customers. After testing the EntryGuard(TM) units, Alamo proposed the access control units for Higuchi Manufacturing, America LLC based in San Antonio, TX, and received a contract immediately. Alamo Integrated Systems Inc. provides leading-edge electronic solutions to commercial and governmental facilities around the world, and we are eagerly anticipating that Alamo will give FaceKey an entry into a new niche in the security industry.
