

Event of Monday, October 2, 2006:

This is information we received about a theft of three laptop computers in San Antonio, TX. Apparently, the office had little or no security.

Criminal activity reported of alleged laptop theft in high-rise building:

San Antonio, TX, October 2, 2006: "At 7:20 this morning this gentleman entered a downtown building carrying two duffel bags. He proceeded to the fifth floor and dropped the bags into the stairwell. He attempted to open the entrance door to a tenant at the lobby on this floor and was unsuccessful. He then went to the 7th floor. There he was able to slip open the tenant's entrance door. He entered the office and took three laptop computers. He exited through the stairwell and was on camera with the bags exiting the building through the stairwell."

Photo captured by cameras in the stairwell

